I believe that if you've lived somewhere for 20 years, you are considered a native, but my heart is sometimes still in the good ol' pubs of England. That being said, I love everything about Perth and Western Australia, from the peaceful parks to the recreation opportunities just at my fingertips. I love to find adventure in any situation—whether I'm out scuba diving, skydiving, or on a stroll through a neighborhood park. But it's not quite the same without a partner to see it all with. I'm online to find a meaningful, committed relationship and someone to share life's adventures with.

When I'm not working as a policeman, I can usually be found at a BBQ, at a nice restaurant, or out at a local pub. Friends and family are extremely important in my life and I have a very close relationship with my sister. She gives great relationship advice and helps me figure women out when I'm in a bind 😊 It's important for me to meet someone who is close with those around her, too.

I'm passionate about mixed martial arts (am working on my next belt), aerobatics, and home/garden improvements (so of course I'd be happy to fix that leaky sink for you). I would love to meet a girl who isn't afraid to get a bit dirty in a game of paintball. But if that's not your thing, how about we get to know each other over a cup of coffee or on a nice walk on the beach?

I think it's important to keep things light and humorous and would love to meet a woman who doesn't take anything too seriously. What's life without a good dose of humor, anyway? My ideal partner is confident in who she is, has a good head on her shoulders, is kind, active, and eager to explore the world around her. I wouldn't mind a day of shopping as long as it means we have quality time together. Romance, chivalry, and good manners are not lost on me so if it sounds like we could be a match, please reach out!
